

W UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON

Join the BEAM Autism Study!

Brain Engagement Attention and Modeling

The Murray Lab is recruiting autistic adults for a study exploring how the brain's visual system processes motion. Participants will complete online structured interviews, and around 6 sessions of computer, behavioral, and EEG/MRI experiments involving visual stimuli on UW campus.

Why should I take part?

Depending on your participation, you can earn $50-$270. And if you're interested, we can send you images or 3D-printable files of your brain!

Eligibility

To participate, you must:

- Have a current diagnosis of Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD)
- Be an adult between the ages of 18-30 years old

Join now!

Scan this QR code or email rodette@uw.edu for more information

(please note: confidentiality of information via e-mail cannot be ensured).

